

Remember stories can begin in 4 different ways. They can start with a description of a character, a description of the setting, action or dialogue. Read the story openings and place them in the correct box below.

Description of a character

Description of the setting

Remember stories can begin in 4 different ways. They can start with a description of a character, a description of the setting, action or dialogue. Read the story openings and place them in the correct box below.

Dialogue

Action